

StarTex Power named Houston Business Journal “Best Places to Work” Finalist

HOUSTON, May 21, 2008 – StarTex Power, a leading Texas-based retail electricity provider, announced today that it has been named a finalist in the Houston Business Journal Best Places to Work in Houston.

“In order to have a successful company, you have truly care about your employees and the culture of which we operate in. We believe the more we celebrate our successes, the more the employees will understand how their contributions add value to the success of our company” said Marcie Zlotnik Chairman and COO of StarTex Power.

The Houston Business Journal Best Places To Work in Houston celebration is sponsored by: the Houston Business Journal, Burnett Staffing Specialists, Humana, Littler Mendelson PC, PKF Texas, AT&T, Careerbuilder.com, Greater Houston Partnership, HR Houston and Quantum Market Research. For the 4th year, the Houston Business Journal has sought out the companies that are considered the best places to work in Houston by management and employees. In honoring some of the city's most outstanding firms, their goal is to help other businesses and their employees benefit from their example.

About StarTex Power

StarTex Power is a Texas-based and Texas-owned Retail Electric Provider. Our management team has over 60 years of experience in the deregulated utility industry. At StarTex Power we are committed to establishing the highest standards in the industry with competitive prices, easy to understand billing, as well as superior customer service. To find out more information on StarTex Power visit their web site at www.StarTexPower.com.

###